DETAILED ACTION

As a preliminary matter, the proposed amendment sent on 3/25/04 has been entered and "PN: 6,740,921" is added after "2002," and "which" to include the patent number of the application in the record.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential structural cooperative relationships of elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the necessary structural connections. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted structural cooperative relationships are:

a) said plurality of first wiring with said first pitch in relation to said plug:

The independent claims indicate the existence of multiple first wiring separated by a first pitch but associates a single plug as being connected to said first wiring. Unclear is how a single plug could have been connected to the "first wiring" that is defined in the claims to have multiple sub-wiring structures independently assembled with said first pitch.

b) said gate electrode in relation to its separation from itself along a direction:

A single gate electrode is claimed in the structures defined by the independent claims. However, the claims also indicate that, "said gate electrode is separated from each other along first direction". Unclear is how a single gate electrode can be separated from each other in the claimed direction.

c) said gate electrode in relation to its connection with itself along another direction:

A single gate electrode is claimed in the structures defined by the independent claims. However, the claims also indicate that said gate electrode is "connected from each other along a second direction". Leaving the grammatical error aside, unclear is how a single gate electrode can be connected with itself in the claimed direction.

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite in that it fails to point out what is included or excluded by the claim language. This claim is an omnibus type claim.

A single gate electrode separated from "each other", and the same electrode "connected from each other" in the independent claims render the claim language omnibus.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Refer to PN:5,416,350.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Fetsum Abraham whose telephone number is: 571-272-1911. The examiner can normally be reached on 8:00 - 18:00.
